Shrek-tastic

Shrek gazing over Wilstone

Well, the scarecrow competition certainly exceeded all our expectations, and as I write this, an amazing £714 has been raised for the new shop, with money still coming in! A full article on the competition can be found elsewhere in this magazine, but the residents of Wilstone certainly took the theme of 'movies' and ran with it, brightening up everyone's Easter break. So, thank you.

Stall on the bread box

Most of you will remember last year's successful 'stall on the wall' with its amazing selection of young plants for sale. This year, the stall will be outside the front of the shop, living on top of our very attractive bread box. Although it doesn't have quite such an aesthetically-pleasing location this year, the plants selection will be just as exciting. Ruth Patterson is kindly providing the plants; at the moment we have Sweet William, Nasturtiums and Sweet Peas. Stock is changing regularly, so you will be able to get your favourites.

Spring Stock

Some great Fathers' Day cards

During the past year, our cards have been one of our most popular lines and so we're excited to have some wonderful new stock in. These gorgeous designs have been featured in

Vegan delights

Country Living, but are still for sale at a very reasonable price. We also have some great new stock in from Suma. As well as meat-free sausages and chicken-style burgers in the freezer section, we have tinned meatball chilli and three-bean chilli and a vegan and gluten-free Bombay curry tart. So whether you are a fully-fledged vegan or just trying to increase the amount of plant-based foods you eat in the week, we have some exciting new alternatives for you to try.

As always, if you see something you want but we don't stock it, let us know and we'll see what we can do.
